about Envirowall®...

Envirowall® is a revolutionary new concept in interior fit-out that, for the first time, provides a cost effective, green alternative to developing your internal space in less time.

Envirowall® is an award winning panel product made totally from waste or natural material depending on the application. Our paper based panel is literally made from recycled newspapers, magazines and other waste material and has an extremely high fire resistance. Our straw based panel is made from natural straw and binding agents and offers additional benefits by being able to create more complicated fixtures and fittings as well as wall panels. Envirowall paper and straw boards offer high levels of impact resistance so are well suited to high traffic areas or where you want to save cost by keeping your interiors fresher for longer. Envirowall panel products are 100% recycled at end of life and can be formed back into new envirowall panels or other building materials.

- Envirowall® - Contributes to the protection of the environment
- Demonstrates commitment to corporate responsibility
- Reinforces consumer brand loyalty
- Benefits the bottom line

Envirowall® is the first choice, eco-friendly, alternative to plasterboard and mdf and is pre-finished in various formats ready for installation into your property with no on-site decoration required. So no more plaster, plasterboard or pots of paint to landfill.

Envirowall® Form is our latest range of interior designed sculptured panels that not only help you be kind to the environment but also create truly unique and exciting backdrops to any interior space.
